THE WORLD'S NEWS
IN TODAY'S TIMES.
MEXICO. In a fight at Nogales, Sonora, tonight, and now are in possession of the border town, after a fight which continued with little abatement for twelve hours. Casualties are estimated at 100 dead and twice as many wounded on both sides, although accurate count has not been made.
Private Allen A. Umfleet, Troop C, Fifth Cavalry, U.S.A., was wounded seriously by a rebel bullet while doing police duty near the international line here. The shot passed through his face from nose to ear. No other Americans were injured.
Umfleet was shot shortly after 5 o'clock, when the attack was at its height. Lieut. Col. Tate, in charge of the Fifth Cavalry patrol, instantly sent word to Gen. Obregon, in command of the rebel forces:
ORDERED TO CUT IT OUT.
"You have shot one of my men. Cease firing, or I shall be after you at once."
At the same moment the firing from the regulars under Col. Kosterlitzky and Reyes slackened. By some preconcerted arrangement Lieut. Col. Tate called his bugler and ordered him to sound the Mexican "Cease firing" order. The Federal garrison instantly obeyed, but desultory firing continued to come from the besiegers.
Col. Obregon succeeded in holding back the fire from his men, so that Col. Kosterlitzky and Reyes with their forces were able to cross to the United States, where they surrendered to Col. Wilcox E. Wilder, Fifth Cavalry, who arrived too late to take command of the American troops. The Mexican Federal soldiers stacked their arms before the American troops and disbanded.
More than 300 wounded from both sides rest in hospitals here, while the dead, dead of the march against the garrison of 300 regulars, the number of dead has not been accurately estimated.
BULLETS CROSS THE BORDER.
A rain of lead dropped over the American town, many citizens narrowly escaping injury. Stray balls fell into the streets, some penetrated houses, narrowly missing Americans in their homes.
The destruction in the Sonora town was great, although the majority of buildings were of adobe. Gen. Obregon gave the order for attack early this morning, and the rebels remained at some distance from the town until nightfall. Three desperate attacks upon the Federal soldiers were necessary to dislodge them from the defensive position. The most strenuous assault was made at 5 o'clock, when Constitutionalists charged the Federal front, left flank and rear. Wicked fighting continued for a quarter of an hour, when a sudden assault was made by rebel reserves upon the right flank of the Federal line. The rebels then crossed the border and entered the town, and the fighting continued from all sides, retreated to the shelter of the town, and ceased firing.
It was at this time that Lieut. Col. Tate gave his order "Cease firing." It is said that the American officer had been given orders to cross into Mexico if protection of Americans demanded such course, and give battle to the rebels and Federalists alike in event they disobeyed his order to cease firing. Immediately after the first bugle call from the American troop commander, Lieut. Col. Tate began assembling his men. Then the second call was given and obeyed.
FIRE RIFLES IN THE AIR.
A messenger from the American officer with Gen. Obregon at the time of the first bugle call declared upon his return that the rebel general immediately gave orders to cease firing, but that his jubilant men fired their rifles in the air. At once, it is related by the messenger, Gen. Obregon shot down (Continued on Second Page.)

HURLED TWENTY-FOOT FEET BY EIGHT HUNDRED POUNDS OF POWDER, PARACHUTE PERFORMER ALIGHTS UNHURT BEFORE HUNDREDS OF HORROR-STRICKEN SPECTATORS.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, March 12.—A steel rocket containing Rodman Law, the "human fly," in which he intended to be shot 1500 feet into the air, descending by a parachute, exploded this afternoon when 800 pounds of powder behind it was fired. Law was hurled twenty-five feet from his seat in the rocket, but was unhurt. Protected by padding and a helmet, Law crawled into the rocket with his parachute and gave the order to fire. The fuse was lighted and spluttered for thirty seconds. There was a burst of flame, a cloud of smoke and a terrific report. Hundreds of spectators, straining their eyes for a sight of the great rocket hurtling the air, saw it leap forward a few feet and burst in fragments.
Law was hurled violently through the air and to the ground. His hair and eyebrows were burned off. For ten seconds he was unconscious. Then he got up and looked around. "Damn that thing," he exclaimed. "I thought I was going up."

SAN FRANCISCO NAUAD WANTS HER PORES TO "BREATHE."
Found Disporting in Ocean Early in Morning, Rude Sketches Comical Health Cultist to Go to Station, Where She Is Held in Fifty Dollars Bail.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) For bathing in the ocean at the foot of L street, clad only in the garb with which nature endowed her, in accordance with a peculiar health cult she has been following, Miss Clara Schmidt, a wealthy woman living at a retreat of the cult near the coast, was arrested at 10 o'clock this morning by detectives and booked at the City Prison. Bail was fixed at $50, which she promptly paid and was released.
SLEUTHS VISIT BEACH.
The two sleuths had heard numerous complaints from residents in the vicinity of L street and learning that 10 o'clock was the hour at which Miss Schmidt performed her ablutions, they went out to the beach, where they found her disporting in the water. She was ordered to come out on terra firma and accompany the officers.
Miss Schmidt protested indignantly that bathing nude was a sacred cult, and that she was a health cultist. She was ordered to come out on terra firma and accompany the officers.
She attempted to convert the arresting officers to her faith and also the patrolmen at the Park Station, where she was first taken.
Residents at the end of L street declare that Miss Schmidt has been taking these baths every morning for some time past and that she also takes sun baths of a similar nature in the yard in the rear of her retreat.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
FAIRBANKS (Alaska) March 12.—Archdeacon Stuck, the well-known Episcopal missionary, left Fairbanks today with three companions to attempt to reach the summit of Mt. McKinley. Mr. Stuck is taking a complete outfit, including scientific equipment, with which to make observations and establish the exact height of the great peak, which is approximately 28,000 feet.
Mr. Stuck, who is making the trip as a vacation expedition, expects to reach the summit about May 1. The party will attack the mountain on the northeast face, crossing Muldrow Glacier and following the route over which Thomas Lloyd of Fairbanks made the first ascent in 1910 and which was followed by Prof. Herschel Parker of New York and Salvatore Brovna of Tacoma last year, when they came within 100 feet of the summit. Mr. Stuck is accompanied by two guides and a half-breed helper.
Archdeacon Stuck is one of the most widely known missionaries in Alaska and is a hardy "mountain" having traveled thousands of miles, visiting remote missions during his nine years' service in the north.

WASHINGTON TO THE TIMES, March 13.—[Special Dispatch.] Following editorial comments on topics of the hour are printed in eastern newspapers:

The effect of the Balkan war has been to increase burdens for the maintenance of armaments that will weigh down the powers of Europe as they have never been afflicted. The fear of Germany is twofold. The country has the vision of the Slav state rising upon the defeat of Turkey and strengthened by the prospective defection of the Slav states from Austria upon the decrease of the aged Emperor. Far worse than the yellow pector ever was in the Slav peril that was pointed to by Bismarck. In the rising tide of Slav power Germany sees a threat of eventual subjection that has alarmed the counsels of the nation.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Rain and Snow in Middle West to Be Followed by a Drop to Zero Today.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 12.—[Special Dispatch.] Zero weather for the Northwest tomorrow is predicted tonight by Forecaster Frankfield. A drop in the temperature will be reported all over the country during the next twenty-four hours. There will be rain and snowfall west of the Rocky Mountains. Winter is again to come into its own, according to predictions made tonight at the government Weather Bureau in Chicago. High winds will accompany the change in weather.

Rain and snow fell in the Middle West and the Northwest as well today. Hail began to fall in Chicago in the afternoon, but ceased shortly after midnight.

The moderate weather we have been enjoying in Chicago, and in fact more or less generally over the country during the past week is at an end, said Dr. Frankfield tonight.

"We are to have some cold weather but just how cold it will be cannot be predicted except to say that in the Northwest the temperature will drop below zero. We are to have a material drop in Chicago temperature. There is to be some snow and more rain generally over the country. The change will have taken effect in earnest by tomorrow night."

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—Charging the need of thorough organization for studying and securing the ideals on which the platform of the Progressive party was based, former President Theodore Roosevelt addressed an audience tonight in the Metropolitan Opera-house. The meeting marked the close of the first day of a two-days' session of the first annual Progressive conference of the State of Pennsylvania.
Col. Roosevelt, Dean Draper W. Lewis of the University of Pennsylvania law school, and the Rev. George L. Perrin of Massachusetts, laid stress on the educational side of the work to be accomplished; the acquiring of social and industrial facts on which to base the necessity of proposed reforms.
Col. Roosevelt said in part:
"The Progressive party has been founded primarily to render social and industrial service. This means, of course, that there must be clean politics. The first requisite in any movement for any species of betterment in this country must be honesty. The most characteristic, the most essential, and the most original form of work we are undertaking is the work of the Progressive service. We intend to realize the new freedom for which this nation strives, by social research, in which information is the keynote; and then by the immediate translation of the knowledge thus acquired into action by a political or legislative service. In the service is the watchword. The Progressive service branch of our party activities is devoted to social research, in organized, efficient shape and is endeavoring to correlate it with the act of law-making bodies and the needs of the public."
"Remember always that we are not engaged merely in investigation without action."
"Our party is not in power; but it is our duty to formulate public opinion so that it shall insist on action along the lines we indicate. We recognize the urgent need of strengthening our party by means of organization; of extension of the machinery; but we recognize with equal emphasis that machinery, while imperatively necessary, is of use only if treated as a practical means of securing applied realism. The Progressive service is organized because our party for the first time in the history of any great party in this country recognizes that the party organization can best be strengthened by continuous, organized party work for definite aims and ideals. Our headquarters national and state, are to be open all the year round, so that men and women (for men and women stand on an absolute equality in our party) can meet to discuss political issues and social and economic issues and to plan for putting a little farther in advance the outposts of progress."

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Representative Johnson of Spartanburg, S. C., appealed to the President to grant a respite in the case of John B. Goodwin, sentenced to be executed tomorrow at Globe, Ariz. for the crime committed on an Indian reservation.
The President granted a stay of sixty days so that Goodwin's relatives in South Carolina, who, it appears, have just been apprised of the case, may make a thorough inquiry. It was his first extension of executive clemency.
Get on the Right Side of the Drink Habit
Do Not Let It Continue to Stare You In the Face as Something You Cannot Overcome.
Thousands of men are making their lives miserable by having "something" facing them every morning when they awake, and that "something" is they must have just so many drinks before they are properly stimulated so they will be comfortable and able to transact business. The habit of drinking has not benefited you during the year 1917, but it has caused loss of time, money, health and happiness. All of you drinking men need the Neal Drink Habit Treatment, which is a harmless, vegetable remedy that will remove all craving and necessity for drink in three days, without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections. When this is accomplished you will again be on the "right side" of the drink habit and can begin the New Year right.
If you desire further information regarding the Neal Treatment call at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive street, or write or phone for free book. Phone Broadway 4607. Neal Institute, Ocean Park, California, 160 Hill street.

Logan, located at the corner of Thirtieth street and Calumet place, in the vicinity of the home of Mr. Justice Day of the Supreme Court.

Startler by Wilson.

Tomorrow night is of great significance in connection with the Wilson scheme of legislative endeavor. Aside from the conference held yesterday with Representative Underwood, the Democratic House leader, that of tomorrow will be the first which the President has held with any member of Congress since his inauguration with distinct reference to large policies. Senators previously called to the White House have been summoned in connection with patronage affairs. It is noteworthy that the first Senator called to discuss broader subjects is not of the party to which the President belongs, but a progressive Republican.

PLANS OF WILSON.
That President Wilson plans to call to the support of his program progressive Republicans of the party with which he affiliates, is one of the main conclusions to be drawn from what has happened and is about to happen. It has been understood for some time that the progressive Republicans would aid the Democratic President in affairs of legislation, which, according to their contention, do not call for the drawing of strict party lines.

President Wilson is not loath to profit from the situation. His determination is to be a progressive President more than a Democratic President. He hopes to carry out literally the spirit of his inaugural address in affairs of legislation, which, according to their contention, do not call for the drawing of strict party lines.

has announced his purpose of throwing his hearty support to the Democratic President if the latter showed a determination to work for legislation that was thoroughly progressive. The Senator said the same thing when President Taft entered upon his office four years ago, but as is well known the parting of the ways came very soon in that case, and the estrangement never was healed.

WANTS AN UNDERSTANDING.
Legislation apart from the tariff revision still lies some distance in the future, but it is probable that the President desires an initial understanding with the Progressive leaders, for whom he has a high regard. Undoubtedly the conference tomorrow night will be merely preliminary to many which will take place as specific questions come to the front, providing the friendly relations which the President seeks to cultivate are lasting.

It was stated at the White House today that President Wilson has studied Mr. La Follette's record with great interest and that he is in agreement with him in various respects. It was recalled that in a speech at Wilmington, Gov. Wilson made reference to the Wisconsin Senator as the "little giant of the West."

When announcement of the forthcoming conference was made it was reported that the purpose of it would be to consider patronage matters. Later it was declared that patronage would have nothing to do with it, that Senator La Follette is not regarded as a dispenser of Wisconsin offices, and the flat statement was made at the White House that a discussion of politics alone had prompted the President in seeking the interview.

SYMPATHY WITH WILSON.
In the last campaign Senator La Follette supported neither Taft nor Roosevelt, but managed to maintain his position within the Republican party. It is well understood that his secret sympathy abided with the Wilson Presidential ticket and the carrying of Wisconsin by the Democrats is attributable to the La Follette Progressives in that State. The La Follette influence kept Republican Progressives away from Roosevelt. The Wisconsin Senator never has forgiven what he holds to be the treachery of the Roosevelt candidacy for the Presidency, which undermined the campaign of the Progressive aspirant to succeed Taft as party leader. And he never will forgive it.

This reference to the recent past is pertinent to interesting features of the present situation. While many Republicans have been expressing themselves as hopeful of the success of the Wilson administration it has not escaped the notice of shrewd observers that Roosevelt Progressives are presenting a somewhat peculiar attitude. Various happenings and incidents, comparatively trivial as they are, taken as a whole, show that the Roosevelt element or inner circle, views the new administration at the outset with a feeling of jealousy rather than one designed to give encouragement to progressive effort under the Wilson regime. A tendency to "knock" the administration, through gratuitous disquisitions on troubles and pitfalls that lie ahead, has been exhibited. There is apparent a disposition in the quarter mentioned to dwell more on fancied or probable failures rather than on the promises of deeds indicated by the general tone of the administration to date.

ROOSEVELT A "KNOCKER."
Unsentimental observers coldly charge Roosevelt himself with inspiring this attitude on the part of his lieutenants. They conjure up private hints from the leader of the party that bears the label "Progressive" to the effect that "Wilson means well but he cannot make good"—that he will be "trecked by discord in his own party."

Just as coldly some of these observers charge that Roosevelt believes his ambition with respect to the future rests on the failure of the Wilson administration. Senator La Follette, it is believed, harbors this notion as to Roosevelt's belief and also realizes the advantage that would accrue to the candidate who ran second in the last campaign, if President Wilson's administration is not progressively successful. In this realization may be found additional inspiration for Senator La Follette's willingness to do what he can to help the President in his programs as it now is understood.

Senator La Follette's ambition to sit in the White House some day, as he sees the politics of the situation, is not likely to be injured by assisting in the carrying out of progressive legislation recommended by President Wilson. There is no present necessity, however, for going more deeply into complications that pertain to the future. The present features are interesting enough in themselves.

MAY LEGALLY MOVE HOSPITAL.
Judge Jones Declares There Is No Obstacle to Taking State Institution from City to Farms.
(BY BUREAU WRITER TO THE TIMES.)
STOCKTON, March 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There are no legal reasons why the State cannot move the Stockton State Hospital from its present location in a residence section of this city to the hospital farm on the Lower Sacramento road, according to Judge E. J. Jones.

The site was donated to the State by Capt. Charles Weber, founder of Stockton, and in the deed a reversionary clause was inserted causing the land to revert to his heirs if ever used for anything except hospital purposes. The condition was removed in a subsequent instrument and the title is clear.

Dr. Fred P. Clark, superintendent of the institution, says he favors removal.

HOT COUNTER IN RACE ROW.

Attempted Killing Charged;
Whites Seek Warrant.

Shooting Prostrates Woman;
May Lose Her Mind.

Negroes Rest on Their Arms;
Siege Maintained.

Mrs. Hallock Cole of No. 4157 Melrose avenue, announced yesterday that she will today ask the District Attorney for a warrant charging Miss Susie Anderson with the attempted murder of her (Mrs. Cole's) sister, Miss Carrie A. Case, as the result of Saturday's sensational shooting climax to the race war which has been raging about the Anderson residence at No. 4024 Marathon street.

Miss Case resides at No. 4024 Marathon street, next door to the house occupied by the Anderson family, negroes, who have been in a state of armed siege through the efforts of certain persons unknown to cause the blacks to remove from the neighborhood. On the evening of the shooting Mrs. Cole says that her sister was standing in the back yard of her home and that Miss Anderson emptied her shotgun at her. She says that Miss Case, while not hit by the flying lead, was so shocked and frightened by the shots that she is prostrated and in danger of losing her mind.

This statement is substantiated by that of Dr. William V. C. Francis, with offices in the Broadway building, who is attending her. Since Saturday evening, according to Mrs. Cole, Miss Case has gone from one waiting station to another and is so terror-stricken that it has been necessary to remove her from the scene of the trouble to the Cole residence. She will probably be taken to the beach today in a further effort to distract her mind from what appears to have been a terrifying experience.

"My sister lives next door to the Andersons with our father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill B. Case," said Mrs. Cole yesterday. "I understand that the feeling in the neighborhood has been bitter against the negroes, but my family has had nothing to do with it. In fact, my father is a veteran of the Civil War and fought to free the negroes at that time. This is also true of the next-door neighbor of the Andersons on the other side."

"Carrie happened to step into the back yard last Saturday evening and was standing near the barn, a large building which stands at the rear of the lot. The whole yard is lighted from the street lamps and she was plainly visible from the Anderson yard—there is no possibility of her having been mistaken for anyone else. I believe that the barn may have been used as a screen for whoever has been throwing things at the Anderson bungalow and that the negroes may have been looking for some one in that direction. The shooting was absolutely without provocation on Carrie's part or of that of any member of our family. But there is no doubt whatever in my mind that Carrie was the target—the pellets came so close to her that she heard them whistle."

"She did not faint then for she was literally paralyzed with fright. Since that evening, however, she has been unable to move about and has been under the care of a physician. We shall take the matter to the District Attorney immediately and will push it to the limit through the courts as soon as Carrie is able to appear as a witness."

MAY LOSE HER MIND.
"Miss Cole is suffering from great nervous shock," Francis last evening. "She is naturally of a nervous, high-strung temperament and it was by my orders that she has been removed from the scene of the shooting. Her mental state is such that there is danger that she may lose her mind."

Seen after her use of the shotgun, Miss Anderson declared that she had been watching in her yard and opened fire at shadowy figures in the darkness after the bombardment of her home had begun again that evening. She says she does not know at whom she fired or whether any of her children found its mark. She has lived in the Marathon-street home since the early part of February and declares that she has been the victim of a ceaseless persecution on the part of the white people ever since. She has been unable to give the authorities any names of those responsible for the efforts to oust her, but has maintained the armed guard of her residence.

CHIEF DISPUTES COURT.
Rulings in Regard to Those Involved in Auto Accidents Will Not Prevent Arrests.
Drivers of automobiles or other vehicles will be subject to arrest where they are involved in accidents resulting in injury to pedestrians, if Chief Sebastian carries out his present plan.

The head of the police department took exception to the construction of the law placed on a case yesterday by Judge Finlayson, wherein the court held that such a driver was not compelled to give his name after an accident.

"Drivers who refuse to come to the Central Police Station and make reports, or who refuse their names to the officers who witness accidents hereafter will be brought in," Chief Sebastian said last night.

COURT DENIES DAMAGES.
Damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained when a wheel came off an omnibus and he was thrown to the ground, have been denied Lewis W. Ball, the District Court yesterday affirming such judgment by the Superior Court. Suit was against the American Transfer Company and the Tally-Ho stables.

BATCHELDER TO PLEAD GUILTY, LAWYER SAYS.

ATTORNEY GURNEY NEWLIN, who succeeded E. A. MacCabe as counsel for W. J. Batchelder, one of the office men under indictment for using the mails to defraud in connection with the affairs of the late Cleveland Oil Company, stated yesterday that it is the intention of his client to plead guilty to the charge as soon as the matter can be arranged. Of the other four, Grant O. Gillette, Thomas M. Montgomery, John Montgomery, Jr., and Edson France, it is confidently expected by the Federal authorities that another will take similar reaction, reverting to plea several years ago for his health. Come up before Judge Rudkin next Monday, and demurors will probably be entered for the Montgomerys and Gillette at that time.

Batchelder is suffering from a hemorrhage, and was unable to appear in court last Monday. He is a Colorado Springs man, and came here several years ago for his health. His connection with the Cleveland

BLINDNESS AND DEATH ATHWART BRIGHT PAGE.

Mrs. Jane Marsh-Parker, Pioneer club woman and litterateur, who died at her home in this city yesterday.

BLINDNESS AND death were but a day apart for Mrs. Jane Marsh-Parker, magazine writer and pioneer club woman, who passed away early yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Miss Margaret Marsh-Parker, No. 718 Benson street. The literary instinct that made her a successful writer and the friend of many noted persons was active to the last. Two books—"The Leaves of the Trees," by Benson, and a work on German philosophy, were returned to the public library yesterday by her friend, Mrs. S. D. Ely.

Mrs. Parker had lived in this city two years, coming here from New York where she was active for fifty years in literary and club work. She was 76 years old.

Aside from her contributions to the Outlook, as the Spectator; the Century, Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, and other magazines, Mrs. Parker wrote a novel, "The Midnight Cry," and a history of Rochester. She left numerous letters from the literary Mark Twain wrote:

"I greet you with pleasure; you were a good audience all by yourself."

Her correspondence, now in possession of her daughter, also includes letters from Hall Caine, George William Curtis, Henry James, Eugene Field, Justin Winsor, Francis Parker and Susan B. Anthony. The latter was one of the charter members of the celebrated Ignorance Club, founded by Mrs. Parker. It was the second woman's club organized in New York.

"Thanks for your brief note," Miss Anthony wrote. "I shall be most happy and so will my sister May, to be of your Ignorance Club."

Mrs. Parker differed from most of the women of her set in her views on woman's suffrage. She was ardently opposed to woman voting and often voiced her sentiments in public.

"If I should ever vote, it would be to cast a ballot against woman's suffrage," she announced in the course of a recent speech.

In the movement against placing delinquent children in jails with hardened criminals, Mrs. Parker was a pioneer. She left no doubt of her mother in this work. The other children living are Attorney Force Parker, of this city and Richard Parker of Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Parker at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at St. Paul's chapel. Bishop Johnson will read the service.

Mother and Daughter at Odds
Over Ellis Level.

Charged With Forgery;
Wife Is Steadfast.

Women Clash in Court Over
"Victim of Fate."

A new criminal chapter in the strange history of Ellis Level, who, with his brother, Merrill, planned to rob the All Night and Day Bank of $5000 last April, is being written by the representatives of justice. Level is charged with forging the name of Mrs. A. D. Francisco to three different checks, each drawn for a substantial amount.

The defendant was in Justice Reeve's court yesterday, but because Job Harriman refused to defend the man until assured of a fat fee for the preliminary was continued until the 19th inst. In the meantime the defendant is trying to induce his friends to make good the amount and secure his liberty.

WIFE FAITHFUL.
Mrs. Corcoran is deeply attached to the unfortunate wife, who has faithfully clung to her husband during his vicissitudes. But Mrs. Corcoran, who has warm feelings for Ellis, is not yet prepared to make good the defendant's alleged forgeries though she declared her belief that he will be able to free himself when the case reaches the Superior Court.

Mrs. Francisco and her mother were in Justice Reeve's court yesterday morning ready to appear as witnesses for the State. But when the defendant was spurned by Harriman and the examination of the mother and daughter indulged in a lively argument over the virtues and failings of Level.

Mrs. Francisco declared that the man ought to be prosecuted; that he violated the law, and should be made to pay the penalty. Her mother took the opposite ground and expressed the opinion that Ellis, as she called him, was the victim of some untoward fate, which marked him as its own.

BOLD ROBBERY.
The robbery of the All Night and Day Bank was an audacious trick. Merrill Level was father of the bank. He arranged with Ellis, according to his own story, to have the latter come to the bank. Merrill took up a package of bills and handed them to Ellis, who walked hastily away. The young teller then told the bank officials that he stepped from his cage and a thief reached in and grabbed a bunch of currency.

Ellis was told to deposit the money. He apparently did deposit some of it at the time, according to the admissions of Merrill and later withdrew it and fled. Merrill followed him. Patrolman John Level, a third brother, followed the alleged culprit to their former home in St. Louis and brought Merrill back with him. Ellis followed later.

Ellis Level may have to go to the penitentiary this time. Before he was let out on probation. There are three separate forgery charges against him on each of which he can be tried if the District Attorney sees fit.

Between now and the hearing the defendant will probably secure an attorney.

AN AMAZING LIST OF CURRENT PUBLICATIONS ASKED.

English Teacher to Be Made Vice-Principal of Los Angeles High School—Report Shows Remarkable Record of Schools Built and Opened During Past Six Months.

Considerable of a roar went up from the Board of Education yesterday concerning the regulations for magazines for the High Schools.

At the meeting on Monday night the librarian's order for $14,000 worth of books was held up because there was not sufficient money in the library fund to pay for them. Yesterday two reports from the Supply Committee, involving the expenditure of about $2400, were books, magazines, maps and other articles chargeable to the library fund, amounting to $1350, and they were all stricken out of the reports for the present.

An examination of the lists made it look to a layman like a belated shopping list. There were forty-nine magazines, including all the well-known publications—just make your own list and you can't miss it—for the Los Angeles High School, the name for the Polytechnic High School, and ditto for the Manual Arts High School. The lists were not so lengthy for the other High Schools, but they were all there, making the total cost for subscriptions to magazines alone about $550.

The extreme was reached in the other direction by two regulations on a biscuit cutter costing 3 cents, and another a half-pound of potato, costing 4 cents. The postage alone to complete the purchase of these two articles would equal their first cost and with the printing and stationery added, would increase their cost at least 50 per cent. The entire board rebelled, and the case shows the necessity of each principal having a small emergency fund.

Tailor Fined for Substituting Cloth Superior to that Ordered for Suit by Customer.

Tailors who substitute cloth inferior to that ordered when making up suits for customers may take a warning from the fate of William McMahon, a salesman for the Glasgow Tailoring Company, who was fined $30 in the Police Court yesterday for having obtained money on false pretenses. The police are investigating several establishments suspected of doing this.

W. T. East, No. 1013 Santos street, complained that he bought a suit and took a sample. When he returned for his suit he discovered that cheaper material had been used. Police Judge Williams was of the opinion that a fine of $30 might have a salutary effect and a court order to that effect was made.

SIX NEW TANK VESSELS FOR GENERAL PETROLEUM.

Chief English Shareholder, Who Has Been Here Since February, Will Look After European Market for His Company's Oil—He Visits California Every Year.

Andrew Weir, London ship owner and merchant who has been in California since the middle of February on business in connection with the General Petroleum Company, in which he is the chief English shareholder and director, started for England yesterday on an important commission for the big oil concern.

Weir is to look after the European market for the General Petroleum Company's oil and as a first step to place orders for six tank steamers of approximately 6,000 barrels capacity each, which will be in addition to four now contracted, one of which, bearing the name of Eugene de Sabie, president of the General Petroleum Company, is practically completed. This tank steamer is expected soon to be fitted and will be placed in service to haul oil from the General pipe line. Two of the steamers are built at the Palmers shipyards and two by Hawthorn, Leslie & Co., both English concerns.

While in California, Weir also acquired large holdings in the General Petroleum Company, in order to aid in the financing of the big projects like that for the control of the Union Oil Company, for which the General Petroleum Company is negotiating.

Although most of the present stockholders of the General Petroleum Company are reputed to be independent of the big financial powers of Europe, some oil men believe that Weir's acquisition of large holdings in the company is significant.

It is intimated in some well-informed circles of great importance in financial circles of Europe and India, mentioned among the latter being the Sassoons, whose years were heavily interested in the oil business in the Orient and have maintained branches all over the world. It is said that recent laws making the sale of the drug a felony is ruining their business and endangering investments running into many millions.

There is some speculation as to whether they may not become interested in oil as they look with favor on petroleum as a field for investment. The Sassoons are reputed to hold about the same position in the financial world of India that the Rothschilds do in Europe.

Weir is expected to visit California every year to inspect the developments of the General Petroleum Company. He has been a ship owner of great prominence in England for a number of years, and operates a fleet of seventy steamers.

HIS CUP RUNS OVER.

Man Whose Finger Is Burned Encounters Many Mishaps Before Reaching Receiving Hospital.

First he burned his finger, then the bandaging he put on it caught fire and burned his hand, and while hurrying for aid he sprained his wrist, the whole arm being invalid by the time J. L. Kaufman, No. 1104 West Second street, reached the Receiving Hospital last night.

While preparing meat for dinner, Kaufman grabbed the index finger of his right hand with a knife. He wrapped it up, and put turpentine on the bandage, thinking the wound would heal faster under it. But, as he was frying the meat, grease caught fire in the pan and the flames touched off the turpentine on the bandage.

His whole hand was involved in the flames, which burned the finger to the bone. Kaufman started for help. As he ran down the stairs of his home he slipped and fell, striking on his injured hand. The wrist began to swell.

Returning to the kitchen, he collected a deep dish of hot water, thrust his hand in it, and started for the hospital.

Two small boys saw him walking hurriedly, yet gingerly, and began to pelt him with rocks, yelling at him to walk like a man. Kaufman caught one of the stones back of his right ear, and blood was flowing by the time he reached the hospital. When he walked in to be treated, he told Charlie Whitehead, the internist, of his series of troubles.

Whitehead laughing sympathetically stopped on Kaufman's tale.

And Kaufman had a corn.

CAPITAL'S CALL HEARD.
Local Realty Board to Sleep on Appeal for Aid—Fund to Be Raised Here to Set East Straight.
The Los Angeles Realty Board came near having a head-on collision yesterday with the national administration. The only thing which saved the Democratic party, the President and Congress from this disaster was the forethought of R. W. Dromgold, who suggested as a compromise the reference of a certain resolution to the Board of Managers instead of having it passed at the luncheon of the board at Brink's yesterday noon.
One thing which made the board willing to sidestep the trouble was that no one could be sure just what the resolution was about. President Wagner naively suggested that the National Real Estate Association wanted the Los Angeles Realty Board to do something for Washington. Others agreed that now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the capital, but it was suddenly remembered that the District of Columbia is at present in the hands of the unwashed and this startling remembrance brought a halt to the proceeding.

HELPING THE PREACHER.
A Devout Deacon Asked the Lord to Give Him Just the Qualities Needed for Success.
[Kansas City Star.] One of the English instructors at the University of Kansas makes a hobby of forceful and picturesque language. Primitive people, he contends, because of their scant supply of words, are forced to use figures of speech to express themselves, and consequently use much more picturesque language than the educated classes, which have an extensive vocabulary from which to pick and choose. The doctor has many stories which aptly illustrate his point, but this year he has a new one which was given to him by a Washington clergyman who is deeply interested in the negro race.
"I had been invited to deliver an address at the dedication of a colored church in Richmond," says the minister, "and at its conclusion in recognition of the tireless efforts of an aged colored deacon, I invited him to offer prayer. He included me in his supplication something like this:
"Gibe this pore brudder de eye of de eagle, dat he spy out sin afar off. Glue his hands to de gospel plow. Tie his tongue to de line of truf. Nail his years to de gospel pole. Bow his head way down between his knees, Oh Lord, and fix his knees way down in some lonely, dark and narrow valley, where prayer is much wanted to be made. Noint him with de kerosene ole of salvation, and set him afire."

PROOF OF LARGE FAMILIES.
Many Chinese Households With More Than Forty Members, While Twenty Is a Common Thing.
[Louisville Courier Journal.] The Chinese are proud of large families, and a large family living together under one roof is looked upon as a proof of good temper and as a sign of prosperity.
A large family which is able to live together without dividing up the property always receives much credit and is highly respected. It is one of the highest distinctions in China to have the Wu Fu Tung Tang, or five sons under one roof, although such a distinction is attained by very few.
According to a recent census the family of Meng Yu Shih, a widow of the village of Wang-tai, in the territory of Wei-hai-wai, has the distinction of being the largest in the territory. Her family consists of sixty-six members, and with one servant, there are sixty-seven mouths to be fed daily.
Meng Yu Shih is 63 years old and has nine sons and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren, all living under one roof. She has not attained the ambition of being the head of Wu Fu Tung Tang, but the size of her family has already given her the honor and pleasure of being the largest in China, even if she has not five generations under one roof.
There are many households where more than forty members, and almost all old and distinguished families of China have at least twenty members. Families of small size, three or four, are considered rather bad form, even if they are rich and occupy high positions. Size of family is valuable in China as sign of strong box.

Erkenbrecher's Detroit Burned and Sunk in Inner Harbor and Incendiarism Suspected by Owner.

The fast yacht Detroit, owned by Byron Erkenbrecher, and winner of the Lipton cup at San Diego in 1905, was burned and sunk in the turning basin, Los Angeles inner harbor, late Wednesday night. Erkenbrecher suspects incendiarism, because the yacht, dismantled for the winter, could not have become ignited otherwise, he believes. Yesterday he offered a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty person or persons.

The Detroit was valued at $1500 and is apparently a total loss. She was one of the swiftest craft in the South Coast Yacht Club.

MODISH WOMAN HORSETHIEF.

A SMART HABIT AND HER POISE DECEPTIVE.

Sheriff on Trail of Rider and Magnificent Black Mount, Which Obliging Liverman Borrowed to Please Her When His Animals Were Unsatisfactory.

A handsome young woman horse thief, who wears a modish riding habit and carries herself like an aristocrat, is occupying the attention of Deputy Sheriff Wright. So far he has no clew. The young woman has given several names to trusting livermen from whom she easily secured saddle horses.

She was particular about her mounts and in one case, concerning which complaint has been made, Dolly Grey, she called herself a "daisy" and was dissatisfied with the horse given her. "If you haven't anything better, I'll try another stable," she told the liverman.

In his anxiety to please the impetuous young lady he telephoned to a friend, who was a well-known horse dealer in the vicinity of San Diego, as a rider black. The girl rode away, but did not return. It is believed she is on the trail of a mettlesome black horse.

The woman horse thief has already gotten a writ of habeas corpus from the court and may return to try her old game. She never aroused suspicion until the horse failed to return. From one of the victims it is learned that the girl wore a handsome riding suit when she visited his stables and gave her name as Alice Dupont, her address a fashionable hotel in the Westlake district.

Wright is baffled by the mysterious young woman.

Technical testimony in Elk Hills Case Forces Attorneys to Reference Books.

After four days unprecedented grilling, J. A. Taft, an expert geologist in the employ of the Southern Pacific, called in behalf of the defense in the government suit involving patent to the Elk Hills, under the Congressional grant, stepped down and out last evening, leaving the government contention that petroleum is a mineral yet to be settled.

Redirection and recross examination of Taft covered the geological history of the Elk Hills; the question of the formation of animal tissue was discussed; the reign of aerobic bacteria described; the exciting and sensational theories of correlated geology dwelt upon; the Laura Jean Libbey passionate treatment of the Elk Hills shore lines, with a side-wipe at the continuity of the oil sands, and closing with a hypothetical question that would have put the Clarence Earrow attorneys over the ropes, were all gone into, to the despair of everybody except the lawyers who had books at reference in their hands and were able to spell out the jaw-dropping words.

Taft stuck to his original story, that there was nothing in the geological formation of the Elk Hills to indicate that oil was to be had there in paying quantities. The fact that the oil sand had been found in several of the wells was merely an incident and had no basis according to well-accepted theories of geology. The fact that the oil sand had been found in several of the wells was merely an incident and had no basis according to well-accepted theories of geology.

SPIRIT OF UNREST.

Indians on Reservation Believe Land Is Theirs and Misunderstandings Have Arisen.

The spirit of rebellion and unrest among the members of the Coachella tribe of Indians that culminated in the killing of W. H. Stanley, the superintendent appointed by the Federal authorities, was unwittingly acknowledged yesterday by Juan Costa, one of the Indian judges, in his testimony before Judge Rudkin and a jury in the United States District Court.

Judge Costa declared that the lands of the reservation belonged to the Indians and that he had always been taught to believe that they were the owners of the property; he did not assist in turning over Ambrosio Apapa to the Federal authorities, but rather chose to give him over to the officers at Riverside, because he thought the government had nothing to do with the case.

The witness said that although he was in the schoolhouse just before the shooting of Stanley he did not even go outside to see about it, and knew nothing about the trouble until his brother, Ignacio Costa, had told him that evening, although he was within a few feet of where Stanley fell.

A dozen Indian witnesses were examined with a view to showing that Ambrosio Apapa was not present in the schoolroom at the time of the quarrel, and they all told the same story that they did not see him. Leoncio Lopez, the "walking delegate" among the Coachella Indians, will be on the stand today, and the defense will also bring in expert and other evidence to show that Apapa is insane. It is not claimed that he was so at the time of the shooting, but that he had since become so.

WOULD PLEAD CASE.

Carl Jordan, No. 311 South Central avenue, was arraigned before Justice Ross yesterday on charge of holding obtained money under false pretenses. Jordan asked for time to plead and was released on bond. The answering affidavit was obtained from John Riggs under the promise that he, Jordan, could bring Riggs' daughter, Sylvia, who eloped last summer, to the father.

TO LOWER TELEPHONE RATES.

Corona Trustee Ascert Service Is Poor and Returns Too Great. Hence the Reduction.

CORONA, March 13.—At the meeting of the City Trustees this evening an ordinance was read which lowers the telephone rates in the city 15 cents each. This is the first time it is claimed, because of the poor service rendered and also because of the large returns from the small investment. The company claims to have made, which was verified by the annual report submitted to the board.

There was also a disposition shown on the part of the board to lower the water rates. At present, users are getting 800 cubic feet for a minimum rate of 11.75 and the board wants this amount of water raised to 1000 cubic feet, or the company to charge $1 for the 800 feet. The matter was left until their next meeting for settlement.

P. J. DuBell of San Bernardino applied to the board for a franchise to furnish gas to the citizens of Corona. A resolution offering a franchise for sale was passed.

Hereafter the city will purchase all the oil used in the city for municipal purposes, and the street contractors may now buy direct from them.

Ordinances regulating the gas and electric light rates were passed and remain the same as heretofore, with the exception of one clause that was inserted allowing for the exchange of the company's free of charge.

The Misses Stella, Helen and Anna Platt bought this property twenty years ago and planted it to lemons. The grove since coming into bearing has been a paying proposition. Much so, in fact, that the Corona Lemon Company which already owned over 200 acres of lemons was ready to pay $2000 per acre for the grove which adjoins a part of their property.

A petition is being circulated asking for free mail delivery. This step was taken some time ago but the request was refused owing to the fact that the city lacked several requirements which have since been complied with.

Petitions are being circulated asking the Board of Trustees to call an election to vote on the proposition of issuing bonds for $100,000 to build a new bridge across the San Juan River. The petitions are being generally signed and contain the names of people who have heretofore voted against every bond issue that has come up in the city. This is taken as an indication that there will be no difficulty in carrying the bonds.

BAIT TO DRAW YOUNG MEN.

Assembly Committee Recommends More Athletic Features for Normal Schools, Now Mostly Manic.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SACRAMENTO, March 13.—As bait to draw more young men into public school teaching, liberal expenditures for athletic facilities at the State normal schools will be made if the recommendations of the Assembly committee on that branch of the school system carry weight.

Assembly Bill, No. 286, by Woodley, appropriating $250,000 for the construction of bleachers on the grounds of the new Los Angeles State Normal school, is being introduced as a needless expenditure for a "girls' school," it having developed that very few men attended normal schools in the State.

Assemblyman Woodley, who has charge of the Los Angeles Normal School bill, explained that it was the opinion of the school management that more attractive athletic features might result in increased male attendance.

Assembly Bill, No. 1994, also by Woodley, authorizing normal school trustees to issue diplomas for completing courses in drawing, music, physical culture and commercial, technical and industrial subjects, was recommended by the committee. These subjects, Assemblyman Woodley said, were now taught in the Los Angeles Normal School, but the limitations of the present law prevent giving diplomas for them.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CHICAGO, March 13.—The names of George J. Gould, J. P. Morgan and the Guggenheims were mentioned today in the testimony at the Alaskan coal lands fraud trial.

The testimony was given by Frost's confidential associate, Labaree said he dealt with Charles Sweeney of the Federal Smelting Company for the sale of coal lands.

"Whom did Sweeney represent?" asked Attorney Townsend asked. "The Guggenheims," Labaree answered. "He could draw money from several sources. One of them was J. P. Morgan. He also could have drawn from the Guggenheims and Charles Watkins of the Pittsburgh Coal Company."

"If we had caught a little longer, we would have caught Chief Kohler in a snaky attic."

Recalled to the stand, Benjamin and Schaefer denied having made these statements.

It is expected that Chief Kohler will take the stand in his own defense tomorrow.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

DISSEMINATING TALK ON A PRACTICAL ART.

Home and Free Lessons Given Daily in the Week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, in the Second Floor New Times Building.

"I look as if I had liver trouble," said the cook lady as she was beating the cake bowl even Johnnie gets left," remarked the cook lady as she held up to view the bowl in which she had mixed the cake after that timber and bread knife blade had licked out the sides.

"Wonder where we can get those spatulas?" whispered a young housewife.

The amount of fancy work done by women in the audience while waiting for the lecture to begin would outfit a shop. One young woman is crocheting a coverlet for a bed from linen carpet warp. It takes her just an hour to crochet one of these squares," she explained to an interested woman, "and it takes fifteen squares to make a strip and five strips to make the counterpane."

The woman listened, looked thoughtful, and a rum in her mental arithmetic. "Then it will require seventy-five hours of your time to complete the spread," she cheerfully replied the crocheter, "besides the border."

Some bring books and read the waiting moments away. One woman says she belongs to a literary club and makes it a point to do the necessary reading between the hours of 1:30 and 3:30 while waiting for the opening of the cooking demonstration. A young artist amuses herself by making pencil sketches of different people in the audience. Thus it is that needlework, literature and art go hand in hand with domestic science.

Her First Attempt. "I have lived in hotels all my life," said the lady from Shanghai yesterday as she daintily stripped the meat from a chicken preparatory to making creamed chicken at the special class in The Times school kitchen.

"But I thought this was such an excellent opportunity to learn how to cook that I couldn't resist the temptation. I never touched a chicken before—except to eat it. You know chicken and eggs form a great part of the diet of American and English people in the Orient."

Where They Come From. A Chicago woman was an interested listener at Wednesday's lecture and demonstration of cake making. She has been a pupil under Mrs. Rohrer and Emily F. Ewing and other scientific cooks, and expressed great satisfaction at getting in touch with so clever an expounder of domestic science as Mrs. Haffner-Ginger.

The majority of the crowd of women that throng the lecture auditorium at the tri-weekly public demonstrations are Angelenos and tourists, but there is always a good representation from suburban towns. The register for last Wednesday's lecture shows a goodly attendance from Pasadena, Alhambra, Glendale, Hollywood, Lancaster, Park and some from as far out as Upland.

Today's Lecture. This afternoon the topic will be salads—meat salads—and what dish is more palatable and at the same time more economical than a tasty blending of "leftovers" in the form of a delicious meat salad?

Won Its Favor Without a Flavor

When you eat a breakfast cereal you want to do your own flavoring or seasoning. That's the reason you will choose for your morning meal. It is a natural, elemental food made of the whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked a crisp, golden brown. It is not flavored or treated or compounded with anything and hence keeps indefinitely in the market—the standard cereal food eaten all over the world.

For breakfast heat the Shredded Wheat in the oven a few moments to restore crispness; then pour hot milk over it, adding a little cream; salt or sweeten to suit the taste. It is deliciously nourishing and wholesome for any meal with stewed prunes, baked apples, sliced bananas, preserved peaches, pineapple or other fruits. At your grocer's.

Made only by The Shredded Wheat Company at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Fried Chicken

(Cottolene) Style

The best fried chicken you ever ate can be made with Cottolene.

Cottolene

can be heated to a much higher temperature than either butter or lard, without burning. It fries so quickly that little of the fat is needed, preventing the food being greasy. For this reason, Cottolene-fried food is more palatable than food fried in butter or lard.

Cottolene is more economical than lard—costs one-third farther; costs very much less than butter.

ANOTHER HOTEL. Announcement was made yesterday of the proposed erection of a new hotel in Pasadena by the Hogan

Company. It is to be known as the St. Francis Hotel and will go up at the northwest corner of East Colorado street and Hudson avenue. The building is to represent an investment of between $125,000 and $150,000. The site, which is 135x75 feet in dimensions, adjoins St. Francis court. The building is to be three stories in height and is to have 125 sleeping rooms. It is to be up-to-date in every particular. Charles A. Ferriss, now manager of La Casa Grande Hotel, is to have the management of it. Plans are to be drawn at once by Architect Myron Hunt and it is the intention of the Hogan Company to begin work soon enough so that the building may be completed and ready for occupancy by November 1, 1934.

DOGS TO MAKE THEIR BOW. A large number of the 200 dogs that are to be exhibited at the 1935 show of the Pasadena Kennel Club, which opens this morning at No. 43 West Union street, were placed in their exhibit cages last night and the others will be installed early this morning.

Officers of the club say that the show will be the best ever given in the city. There will be nearly 150,000 worth of dog flesh on exhibit, and among the number several of national fame. They come all the way from San Francisco, and some eastern dogs also will be shown.

Dr. J. E. DeMund of New York will make the awards. He has come here especially to act as judge. A large number of prizes are to be awarded. The judging will begin this morning.

PLANS MATURE. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Overland Club yesterday afternoon the plan to consolidate that and the Pasadena Athletic Club to form a new club was given further impetus. The proposition will probably be submitted to the members of each of the clubs to vote upon within thirty days, and there seemed yesterday to be little doubt that the project will be carried out.

If the two clubs merge, as proposed, the athletic features of the athletic club will not be dropped, but the new club building, besides being a luxurious furnished club building, will also be equipped with an up-to-date gymnasium.

GETTING READY TO GO. The Knights of the Reef Tournament who are to go to Fort and next June to return the visit, last January, have already begun to make their preparations for the coming year. They called for next Thursday night at room 421 Chamber of Commerce building, at which time reports of committees are to be made and a uniform probably be selected. A committee composed of P. W. Sholly, John Vischer Elliot, W. D. Card, R. D. Davis, Eric Hobbs, E. H. Mulligan and Leigh Guyer, is now considering the question of a costume.

The membership of the new order of boaters is to be limited to 100, and already there are nearly this many names enrolled.

CITY BRIEFS. Myron Hunt, architect of Pasadena and Los Angeles, last night delivered an illustrated lecture on the proposed Arroyo Seco Park at the Washington school. The lecture was given free under the auspices of the Washington Heights Club, and there was a large attendance.

A party composed of P. C. Robinson, H. C. Klockner, R. G. Wood, Earl Starbuck and Frank E. Brenner is to leave Pasadena today for a three-day tramp in the mountains. They will go into the west fork of the San Gabriel Canyon and the big Santa Anita Canyon by the way of Mt. Wilson.

PASSED TWO BOGUS CHECKS. Smooth Crook Defrauds a Pair of Rooming-House Proprietors at Redondo Beach.—[Short News Service.]

REDONDO BEACH, March 13.—Local police are looking for a man who today passed two worthless checks in this city, appearing at two rooming-houses and giving checks for $15, receiving cash in return. He called at the Elk Hotel at 3 o'clock today and gave M. E. Tussfeldt, the proprietor, a check for $15, telling Tussfeldt that he would return in an hour with his effects. Shortly afterwards he appeared at another rooming-house, presented a check for the same amount and receiving $7 in change. With the $12 he took from the Elk Hotel and the $7 from the other house, he disappeared.

The police are warning all rooming and apartment-houses. The offender is described by Tussfeldt as being a man of medium height, smooth shaven, and wearing a Derby hat and dark suit. A large launch, the "Gloria," which came ashore last night during a heavy rain, is believed to have broken its moorings at some north beach city and have drifted south to Shakespear

Beach. The craft bears the marks of a rough cruise, possibly having come in contact with some drifting timbers or wreckage. The launch is now in charge of local police authorities, who have notified several local beach towns regarding the craft.

The whereabouts of George M. Arnold, who disappeared from this city one week ago last Tuesday morning, is still a puzzle to local police. Since his strange departure from this city Arnold has passed bogus checks amounting to nearly $400 and also leaving here authorities have learned that he mortgaged three machines which were not his property. Since leaving here he has been seen at Ontario, Venice and in Los Angeles, but no officer has been able to make his arrest. A complaint was sworn out by J. M. Moore of this city charging Arnold with procuring money under false pretenses. Local officers have notified the police departments of many near-by cities and Arnold's arrest is expected hourly.

Yellowfin, one of the most popular fish in local markets, are now running, large catches having been made during the past thirty-six hours. Several launches returned with good catches of yellowfin today and report that prospects for even bigger catches are apparent. A few halibut were taken out today and fishermen are looking forward to a big spring run of fish.

AUTHORITIES PROTEST. Members of Santa Monica School Board Send Members of Legislature Objections to Proposed Legislation. SANTA MONICA, March 13.—The school authorities of Santa Monica have sent letters of protest to each member of the State Legislature, which state their opposition to the proposed legislation proposed by some of the administration legislators. H. M. Robott, the local superintendent of school, has stated in the letters sent that the bills authorizing uniforms for school pupils, the uniform text-book bill, and the proposed measure dealing with secret societies in schools are useless. The board and superintendent think that these vicious pieces of legislation are also the height of George Haines and Theodore Gill, boys of 12 and 13 years, were taken into custody by the police after they had frightened several girls of about their age in Ocean Park by the display of guns. Both of the lads de-mourred when the police asked them to hand over their weapons. They stated that they took the guns from their homes in Los Angeles, and thought that it was more manly to appear with the means of defense than to be without.

Debates will be held simultaneously in the local High School and San Diego High School tomorrow night between teams of the two schools on the subject of whether the present naval increase in the United States is good policy.

He was for years president of the First National Bank of Phoenix until two years ago, when he retired from all business. He was also a director in the National Bank of California in Los Angeles and interested in many other business affairs in that city.

YEARS ARE GROWING DIM. Veterans in Charge of Work at Soldiers' Home Not Stirred by News of Approaching Inspection. SOLDIERS' HOME, March 13.—According to notice received from National Home headquarters in New York, the board of managers on its annual visit of inspection will arrive at this branch March 14.

Referring to the coming of that body, an officer of one of the barracks observed: "There is lacking the bustle and enthusiasm in preparation of quarters that formerly obtained upon the herald of a like event. Many veterans in barracks while not sufficiently ill for removal to the hospital are so aged and feeble as to be unequal to caring for the immediate portion of the quarters occupied by them, as, in the absence of said help, devolves upon each."

In some instances the more physically able neighbors lend willing help to their feeble comrades, but being equally aged, their dimming visions fail to find dust spots; thus leaving much still to be attended to by the always harassed officers.

DEATH INCREASE. Jacob B. Peeler, formerly of Co. I, One Hundred and Ninth Illinois Infantry, a native of North Carolina, aged 71, died at Santa Monica on March 13. Peeler was not a member of the home, but was brought to this place for burial on March 13.

Rudolph Fischer, formerly of Co. E, Eleventh New York Cavalry, native of Germany, admitted from Los Angeles in 1904, died March 13, aged 71. Michael Crane, formerly of the United States Navy, a native of Ireland, admitted from San Francisco in 1904, died March 13, aged 71.

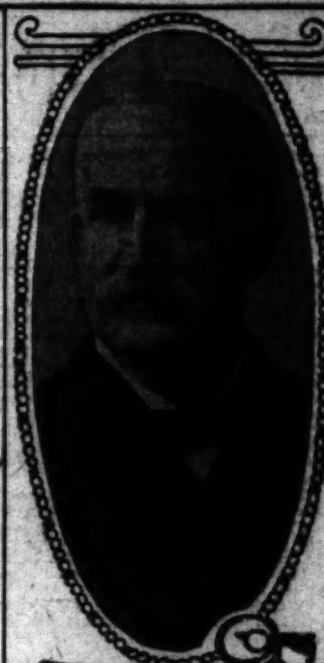

Chester J. Lane, formerly of Co. D, Fifth New York Cavalry, a native of New York, admitted from Oceanside, Cal., in 1904, died March 13, aged 71. Alfred Smith, formerly of the United States Navy, a native of Sweden, admitted from Fresno, in 1901, died March 13, aged 71.

HE "CURSED" THE CONSTABLE. Vernon Bates of Palms Is Fined Fifty Dollars by Venice Officer After Damaging Admissions. VENICE, March 13.—Vernon Bates of Palms, who was arrested by Deputy Constable J. B. Johnson at the place after a remarkable demonstration on the part of Palmitas who were against Johnson and his party, was fined $50 by Justice G. Edwin Brown this afternoon after a jury found him guilty of using violent and profane language in the presence of women and of disturbing the peace. More than a hundred residents of Palms, for and against the deputy constable, were present. When asked by Justice Brown if he called Johnson a liar, with an oath in front of it, Bates said he did, and added that "Johnson was still a liar." Justice Brown stated that he was about to fine Bates $25, but changed his mind because of these words, and fined him $50, which was paid. The case of Johnson, who is charged with battery by a citizen unfriendly to him, comes up next Tuesday.

NEWS BRIEFS. David Evans, prominent Venetian, and formerly president of the Bank of Venice, returned home yesterday from his trip East and to the Panama Canal. He attended the inauguration of President Wilson.

Miss Sara Bernhardt left the King George Hotel, where she is stopping, this afternoon as if she was not at all suffering from any injury, and one of the servants in Bernhardt's suite states that the madame is unconvinced very little by the auto collision of last night, only one of her ankles being a little bruised.

Eliphlet B. Gage.

Well-to-do Arizona mining man, who died at San Francisco after an illness of several months.

WEALTHY MINING MAN DIES. Eliphlet B. Gage, Who Was Factor in Business Affairs of Two States, Passes in San Francisco. HERMOSA BEACH, March 13.—Eliphlet B. Gage, one of the best-known mining men of Arizona and California, and for the past ten years a resident of this place, died yesterday afternoon at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, after an illness of several months' duration.

Gage was closely identified with the development of much of the mining country of Arizona and as president of the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Company, the Grand Central Mining Company, the Central Gold Mining Company was a factor in the growth of Tombstone, Prescott and Phoenix.

He was born in Pelham, N. H., October 2, 1837, and was a graduate of Dartmouth College. In 1877 he went to Arizona and lived in different cities of that State until ten years ago, when he came to Hermosa Beach and lived in the handsome residence he erected at the corner of Hermosa avenue and Twenty-sixth street.

He was for years president of the First National Bank of Phoenix until two years ago, when he retired from all business. He was also a director in the National Bank of California in Los Angeles and interested in many other business affairs in that city.

YEARS ARE GROWING DIM. Veterans in Charge of Work at Soldiers' Home Not Stirred by News of Approaching Inspection. SOLDIERS' HOME, March 13.—According to notice received from National Home headquarters in New York, the board of managers on its annual visit of inspection will arrive at this branch March 14.

Referring to the coming of that body, an officer of one of the barracks observed: "There is lacking the bustle and enthusiasm in preparation of quarters that formerly obtained upon the herald of a like event. Many veterans in barracks while not sufficiently ill for removal to the hospital are so aged and feeble as to be unequal to caring for the immediate portion of the quarters occupied by them, as, in the absence of said help, devolves upon each."

In some instances the more physically able neighbors lend willing help to their feeble comrades, but being equally aged, their dimming visions fail to find dust spots; thus leaving much still to be attended to by the always harassed officers.

DEATH INCREASE. Jacob B. Peeler, formerly of Co. I, One Hundred and Ninth Illinois Infantry, a native of North Carolina, aged 71, died at Santa Monica on March 13. Peeler was not a member of the home, but was brought to this place for burial on March 13.

Rudolph Fischer, formerly of Co. E, Eleventh New York Cavalry, native of Germany, admitted from Los Angeles in 1904, died March 13, aged 71. Michael Crane, formerly of the United States Navy, a native of Ireland, admitted from San Francisco in 1904, died March 13, aged 71.

Chester J. Lane, formerly of Co. D, Fifth New York Cavalry, a native of New York, admitted from Oceanside, Cal., in 1904, died March 13, aged 71. Alfred Smith, formerly of the United States Navy, a native of Sweden, admitted from Fresno, in 1901, died March 13, aged 71.

John Collins, formerly of Co. K, Fortieth United States Colored Infantry, a native of Santo Domingo, admitted from Los Angeles in 1904, died March 13, aged 74.

OXFORD WINS BY SCANT HALF LENGTH.

(BY CARL AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)
PUTNEY (England) March 13.—The dark blue of Oxford flashed first past the finish line of the annual Oxford-Cambridge eight-oared boat race on the Thames today. The winning time was 50 min. 52 sec. for the four and a fourth mile course, on which the inter-university races have been rowed for seventy years.

The Cambridge crew appeared to have the race at its mercy until the last quarter mile, and the finish was in doubt until the last few strokes. Oxford, however, held its nerve and won by a scant half length.

The Cambridge crew, which had been rowing for the last time, was defeated by a narrow margin. The Oxford crew, which had been rowing for the first time, won by a narrow margin.

ROAD CONTEST TO BE HELD.
Los Angeles-San Francisco Meet Is Now Assured.

Shettler, Greer and Young the W.A.A. Committee.

Valley Course on July Fourth With Big Purse.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

There will be a Los Angeles-San Francisco automobile road race this year. The question was settled yesterday when the board of directors of the Western Automobile Association, at a called meeting, appointed a committee to handle the details of the big affair.

Leon T. Shettler, P. H. Greer and Frank M. Young are the three men who will decide just what is the best course to pursue in planning this meet. Frank A. Garbutt, president of the W.A.A., is heartily in favor of the inter-city race, and William Schmitt, chairman of the contest board of the A.A.A., who will be out here in a few weeks, will have a chance to talk over the plans for the biggest road race ever held in California.

When the matter was first proposed in The Times pink sheet the automobile fans along the route were given a chance to decide as to whether the race would be held. Teddy Telford, in the past, drove over the course and found the terrain of the valley route to be of the most favorable kind, and in favor of the race.

It then became a question of the purse and the valley route won. The race will be held over the valley route by way of Bakersfield and Fresno.

Those who are interested in this race propose that a committee of representative men be sent over to the valley to ascertain the likes and dislikes of the drivers of the men in the valley along the course, and also of the farmers in the outside districts.

The purpose is to be raised before the race and will be one of the largest bags of gold ever collected for an automobile contest.

MANY APPLICANTS.
Comes the question of who shall handle the race. Several competent promoters and a few who are not so competent have applied for the position. The committee will decide and when a question is placed in the hands of such men as Shettler, Greer and Young, we need not worry. The right man will be chosen.

QUICK PITCHERS.
Pitched speculators, whose sole desire is to conduct the race for money, are to be eliminated. Fake propositions, which have nothing to back them but the desire of the men in charge to make a "killing," are also to be given the quietus.

This race has attracted country-wide attention. I have a number of letters in my desk from prominent racing drivers who are anxious to know just what the center line is to be and just when the lists will be opened.

The Times has no desire to run this race. The proposition of a Times Chronicle road race is not to be considered. The Times and the Chronicle met the fact over the roads to route the course. This has been done and now it remains for everybody to jump into the band wagon and help boost for the biggest road race ever conducted.

The date, July 4, is ideal for such a race. It should be a one-day affair, with the cars starting from Los Angeles at 8 o'clock on the morning of July 4. The first car should be in

TIMES MARATHON COURSE LAID OUT.

The Executive Committee of the directors of The Times modified Marathon tentatively laid out the course yesterday for the race, which is to be held in this city, April 19.

This season the course goes out Temple street to Hoover, then develops into a regular cross-country race, as the way lies over dirt roads and in the open country. The distance of ten miles just fits in with the present plans of the committee.

Bakersfield by 8 o'clock, where a control is to be established and the leading car should then reach Fresno at noon and after crossing the Pacheco grade should skim through Gilroy and San Jose and reach the gates of the world fair grounds at about 5:30 o'clock in the evening.

HOCKEY CONTEST ON FOR SATURDAY.

The fourth of a series of hockey matches for the Neil Nettleship trophy and the ladies' hockey championship of Southern California, will be played at Exposition Park tomorrow afternoon, between Duarte and the Y.W.C.A. eleven. The "bully-off" will be at 2:30 o'clock.

So far, the Duarte team heads the list, having won two cup games without a single defeat. Last year's champions have never crumpled either with the fast Y.W.C.A. aggregation, so it will remain to be seen whether the petulant winners can down the "Christian" team.

The Y.W.C.A. eleven will have the services of Mrs. Farquhar, one of last year's stars, and Mrs. Gordon Maddock, also included. With Miss Miller as captain, and the Misses Lorraine and Miss McCall, the local team is an excellent one.

Following is the line-up of the contesting eleven: Duarte—Miss Alice Scott, captain; Mrs. Gordon Maddock, Miss Marjorie Maddock, Miss Edith Morgan, Miss Marjorie Morgan, Miss C. Scott, Miss Dolly Scott, Miss Hilda Carter, Mrs. Emily Seymour, Mrs. J. Allan Murray and Miss Margaret Turner. Y.W.C.A.—Miss Margaret Miller, captain; Miss B. Gray, Miss P. Brook, Miss Edith Handyside, Miss Hilda Handyside, Miss Lorraine Handyside, Miss R. Farquhar, Miss J. McCall, Miss Lorraine Handyside.

TIM FLOOD MANAGER.
WINNIEP (Man.) March 13.—(By A. P. Night Wire.) The Winniepeg League today named Tim Flood as manager. Flood played with St. Paul and Los Angeles, and for the last two years has been at Cairo, Ill., as manager.

Excitement High.

OXY FIGURES TO DEFEAT POMONA IN TRACK MEET.

THE OCCIDENTAL-POMONA annual track meet, which is to be run off tomorrow afternoon at Claremont, is attracting a large amount of interest. For the first time in a number of years the Tigers appear to have a chance with the Huns in a dual meet. The Pomona men have been suffering from sickness and the faculty at this season, until but a shell is left of the regular team.

Oxy, on the other hand, started out with fine prospects, but has also suffered, although not to such a marked degree as have the Huns. As the two teams now stand, Occidental has the advantage, the squad being a better balanced organization than that at Pomona.

The events that Pomona expects to win are in danger from several of the Tigers, while in the events that are supposed to go to Occidental, the Pomona athletes do not seem to have a chance.

The fact that "Bo" Wilson is back and will compete in the pole vault and broad jump, adds materially to the Tiger force. "Strin" Beckles is expected to come through in his usual way, although the routes do not figure that he will win three events in this meet, but at that, he stands a good chance.

If Cook, Creighton, Fordval and Yakeley are right in the relay, this best, but thrilling event, should go to the Tigers, along with the winning score of the meet.

drive to right, Rolfe was thrown out by Brooks trying to steal second.

EIGHT INNING RALLY.
The Angels made up for lost time with a three-run sortie in the eighth, but fell but one run short of tying the score. Brooks planted a single in left. Ferritt popped a foul to Four-nier. Page singled infield. Moors singled to left, scoring Brooks. Ellis took a good look at the ball and then slammed it into right for two bases, scoring Page and putting Moore on third. Charles centered home on Maggert's fly to Bode. Setter and Four-nier embarked Olli.

The Tigers will take a whack at them today.
